Chef's Corner...

Hey Legend Oaks family! As a chef during some of these 'unique' times, I thought it might be nice to share some words with y'all, some recipes and some of the things we are doing at Bistro One18.

I had the pleasure of starting last November, and some days sure can be a roller coaster, but I absolutely love it! Getting to know so many of you over the last couple months (especially my Buffalo Bills people), has meant a lot to me and many of you have reached out with lots of questions, so I thought this first 'Corner Talk' I'd try and answer some of those questions.

The state of the restaurant industry:

Wow. Where to begin? Things have definitely been rather crazy for those of us in this industry and for the first time in nearly 27 years, I feel like there have been significant changes at restaurants of all levels. It has been a struggle to get ketchup as of late, among the many other product shortages. Labor shortages also continue to challenge us, so bear with us as we settle in to this new normal, and please keep in mind that we are trying hard to keep things as consistent as we can. On a positive note, we are busier than ever thanks to your support!

BBQ Sauce

Now let me ask you a question, Have you tried our homemade BBQ sauce yet? It is the stuff dreams are made of, at least in this chef's opinion. BBQ is most likely one of my most favorite food groups and past times, so feel free to stop by anytime and talk BBQ with me! I would like to hear about your BBQ secrets too!

Going Green & Sustainability

This is something that has been very near and dear to me, even more so now with my first grandson being born and my second on the way. I think we are stewards of the planet, and being surrounded by 'green', we at the bistro are going to try to start being a little more 'green'. You will begin to notice this month a couple changes in our to go containers, as we try out a compostable container and move away from styrofoam. It's the little things that help us make big steps and become better stewards. Be sure to let us know how they are and keep an eye out for other 'green changes' happening around the Clubhouse.
